Apply to become a Sustainability Coach for a Junior Achievement Program school during the academic year of 2018-2019

Get inspired to act!

Are you a student interested in sustainable development? Do you want to learn how to teach sustainable development to others? Do you want to inspire and empower young entrepreneurs in Gothenburg, Stockholm or Uppsala to develop sustainable business ideas? For the second year we open applications to become a Sustainability Coach for a Junior Achievement Program school (Ung Företagsamhet) during the academic year of 2018-2019!

Who are we looking for?

We are looking for a university student with previous experience/knowledge around sustainable development in one or more areas. Social sciences, environmental sciences, engineering or design, all competencies are welcome as long as you have an interest in sustainability. You should live in, or have easy access to, Gothenburg, Stockholm or Uppsala for a minimum of 3 sessions during the academic year of 2018-2019. We welcome both English and Swedish speaking students.

What's in it for you?

- One education day in Stockholm or Gothenburg with information, methods and tools to learn about how to communicate sustainable development and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)
- A prepared kit with material in your coaching of the young entrepreneurs
- An opportunity to inspire and support young students around sustainability
- A certificate of engagement from Junior Achievement and SDSN Northern Europe

“For a long time I have felt a need to get out of my “academic bubble” and meet other people that want to create sustainable solutions - not only theoretically, but also practically.”

Tove Andersson, Sustainability Coach 2017-2018

What's expected from you?

- Participation at the education day in Stockholm or Gothenburg
- Preparation of coaching sessions
- 3-5 coaching sessions at the Junior Achievement schools (approximately 1,5 hours per session)
- Continuous contact with Junior Achievement teacher

Please note that this is a voluntary commitment.

Who are we?

SDSN Youth in Northern Europe was launched in January 2017 as a regional network within the global SDSN Youth network. SDSN Youth educates young people about the challenges of sustainable development and creates opportunities for them to use their creativity and knowledge to pioneer innovative solutions for the SDGs. In addition, SDSN Youth creates platforms for young people to connect, collaborate and integrate their ideas and perspectives into national and regional pathways for implementation of the SDGs.

SDSN Northern Europe and its youth division is the Nordic chapter of the global SDSN and collaborate with actors from Sweden, Finland, Norway, Denmark and Iceland. The network is hosted by Gothenburg Centre for Sustainable Development at Chalmers University of Technology and the University of Gothenburg, Sweden.

Junior Achievement Sweden provides educational programs in entrepreneurship for students in elementary school and high school. The programs are designed to stimulate creativity and entrepreneurship and to give students insight into business conditions. The philosophy of Junior Achievement Sweden is that entrepreneurship can be taught.
